Big Car is a 501c3 non-profit arts organization with a gallery and performance venue in Fountain Square. In our space in the Murphy Art Center, we host live music and spoken word events, and a major art event on the First Friday of each month. Big Car is operated by an all-volunteer collective of creative talent.

Beyond our work in the gallery, Big Car's mission is to partner with and help promote arts and cultural organizations around the city. Some of our partners and collaborators include: The Indianapolis Museum of Art, iMOCA, Indy Fringe, The Writers' Center of Indiana, SEND, Butler University, Herron School of Art senior class, The Beckmann Theatre, LUNA music, Radio Radio and the Indiana Blood Center.

Live Music

Big Car Gallery is all about bringing together different art forms and different people in a creative space. That's why live music is so important to what we do. We focus on bringing a wide variety of acts, from country music to hip-hop. As an all-ages venue, we often open our doors to younger musicians who might not have the chance to play elsewhere. We also feature national touring acts as well as regional musicians from Muncie, Lafayette, Bloomington and other nearby cities. Most of our shows happen with several bands playing on First Fridays.
